SYNOPSIS OF CONTENTS

The Florida Gazetteer contains seven hundred and twenty pages, the contents arranged as follows: The first 43 pages are devoted to useful miscellaneous information relating to Florida, embracing a descriptive sketch of the State, showing its location, contour, water courses, soil, products, manufactures, commerce, climate, etc., followed by the government officers, the judiciary, state boards, a list of county seats and county officers, a bankers' directory, railroads with express companies operating on same, etc.

Pages 45 to 502 is an alphabetical list of the cities, towns, villages and settlements in Florida, with a sketch of each place, showing its geographical location, population, distance to different points, most convenient shipping stations and banking points, products that are marketed, churches, schools, libraries and other items of interest. Each of these sketches is followed by the names of all business and professional persons located there, as well as those in business in the surrounding country for which it is the postoffice.

Pages 503 to 720 contain an alphabetical list of classifications of the various trades and professions followed within the State. Every line of trade is represented in these classifications and all the persons doing business in each particular line throughout Florida are arranged in alphabetical order by towns under these classifications, thus bringing the persons engaged in any business or profession together under one heading, separated by towns.

FLORIDA

Florida is the most southerly State in the United States and lies between 24½ degrees and 31 degrees north latitude, and between 80 degrees and 88 degrees west longitude from Greenwich. The total area of the State is 59,268 square miles, or 37,931,520 acres. Of this area according to the latest United States Census, the total land surface is 54,240 square miles; the total area covered by water, composed of lakes, rivers and ponds is 5,028 square miles. The length of the State from its northern boundary to the south end of the peninsula is something over 400 miles, the average width of the peninsula is about 100 miles and that portion of the State lying along and between the States of Georgia and Alabama and the Gulf of Mexico averages about 60 miles in width though much narrower in some places.

From its geographical position, being in the same latitude as the northern half of Mexico and southern China, it is natural to suppose the climate is hot, but its comparative degree of heat is not accurately indicated by its latitude, because the temperature that might be expected from its geographical position is controlled in great measure by its peculiar shape, bringing the whole surface in close proximity to the ocean currents which influence to a great degree its entire climatic conditions. The narrowness of the State and its consequent exposure to the fructifying influence of the balmy ocean winds produces a pleasantness and salubrity of climate, and a power of vegetable production truly wonderful.

The surface of the State, taken as a whole, is comparatively level; the most level portion being in the east and southern sections of the State, though there are numerous points in the parts just mentioned where considerable areas of country are from 100 to 250 feet above sea level; in the northern, north central and western sections of the State, the greater portion of the country is quite hilly, many points having an altitude of 200 to 300 feet above tide water

Of the geographical features most important, the most noticable is the great length of coast line, almost 1,200 miles, which is also remarkable for the great number of bays, making the entire coast accessible, and containing a number of the finest harbors in the United States. Into these bays flow numerous streams, many of them navigable, plied by lines of steamboats that supply facilities for commercial intercourse with interior points. A number of these rivers flow entirely across the State (the St. Johns River runs almost the entire length, rising far to the south and flowing due north), and in almost every case have at their mouths safe harbor for vessels in coasting trade, as well as for vessels of larger draught. The principal harbors on the Gulf Coast are Pensacola, Tampa, Charlotte Harbor, Key West and Carrabelle and on the Atlantic Coast, Fernandina, Jacksonville and Miami.

Throughout the history of the world experience has invariably shown those countries blessed with water facilities for travel, transportation and commerce, are the ones that accumulated greatest wealth, were prosperous and progressive. Florida has these facilities to a greater extent than any other State, for practically all of her territory is in close touch with the commerce of the Ocean, through her harbors, where her products may be transported to other climes or exchanged for wares from other parts of the world.

Progress and Development of Florida.

(By J. E. Ingraham.)

Many years ago Mr. Henry M. Flagler remarked that he was going to try to do for Florida, what the Spaniard, the Frenchman and the Englishman had each tried to accomplish in turn, and in vain. Mr. Flagler built the Ponce de Leon and Alcazar Hotels at St. Augustine, the first of the great system of nine hotels, now known as the Florida East Coast Hotel System with hotels at Ormond, Palm Beach, Miami, Nassau (Bahamas), and on the beach near Jacksonville. He built the Florida East Coast Railway from Jacksonville 366 miles to Miami, the greater part through a barren wilderness. He founded towns along the way, contributing liberally to churches of all denominations and schools. He employed many hundreds of men in his various works, helped thousands to establish homes or farms for themselves. He built up the East Coast of Florida by his perseverance and pluck, he never admitted that anything could fail if proper care and effort were expended upon it, by his example he encouraged others and by his means he aided them, his greatest wish being "To help men to help themselves," the greatest of philanthropy.

This expenditure of money, time and unremitting effort has resulted in establishing the East Coast on a sound financial basis. Its success has been felt all over the State of Florida, and its three great crops—fruit, vegetables and tourists—have given it a world-wide reputation.

In 1906 Mr. Flagler began the Key West extension from Homestead to Key West, 128 miles. This is not a long piece of railroad construction but there were no precedents on which estimates for works of this character could be based. Contractors came down, looked over the wide waste of rolling waters to be bridged, shook their gray heads and returned unwilling to even try their skill, or trust their judgment in such unusual undertakings.

The difficulties are these: a narrow fringe, more or less broken, of low coral islands, or Keys jutting out from the mainland to Key West to be connected by embankments, trestles or viaducts and bridges, the Atlantic Ocean on the south, the Gulf of Mexico on the north, protected in places by the outer reef on the south side and by sand bars on the north.

These islands are rocky, hence afford a bed for the railroad for 112 miles, the balance of 66 7-10 miles to be trestled or bridged or filled in. After many months of careful examination by Mr. Flagler's engineers, the actual work began, dredges were put to dig two parallel canals, 100 feet apart from a point across the Everglades south of Homestead to Jewfish Creek at Key Largo, 14 miles, the dump between the dredges being for the future railroad bed. A number of light draft steamboats and barges were bought and supplies were carried, including water (for no fresh water is found on the keys) to camps scattered along the keys from Jewfish Creek to Key West, and thousands of laborers were put to work grading the road-bed on the Keys. These men were well cared for, food was good, and their health was made an object of care, great dredges were built or bought and put to filling in with clay, sand and rock. The shallow waters between some of the Keys trestles were built across these waters and the work of filling in these places that could so be treated was carried on night and day by dredges and by trains of cars, dumping rock and clay along the sides of these trestles. Where the water was too deep for this treatment reinforced concrete viaducts were built, the longest at Long Key, being 2 1-10 miles in length, diameter of arches 50 feet, the track track level is 31 feet above sea level. This type has also been used for a number of openings at other points. The Knights Key and Little Duck Key bridge is of steel girder spans, these girders are 80 feet long, 8 feet high, track level same as Long Key viaduct. The girders are supported by reinforced concrete piers.

The total length of bridges is 17.6 miles; the total length of embankment built by dredges is 49.1 miles.

At Knights Key, 111 miles south of Miami, a wharf was built where cement granite, gravel and sand from the Hudson River quarries and Baltimore, and other construction supplies could be landed by seagoing vessels. At Jewfish Creek, Indian Key Channel and Moser Channel, draw bridges were provided.

Recalling as Mr. Flagler did, the great mistake made by Northern railroads, as for instance: The New York Central, Boston & Maine, Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad in providing insufficient terminal facilities at the great cities, Mr. Flagler planned a terminal yard at Key West of about 160 acres of land built entirely in shallow waters on the north side of the island, thus creating terminal facilities largely in excess of the present wants, but sufficient to supply all future needs.

All this great work is so far along, that Mr. Flagler told the writer, that he expected to see the extension opened for traffic to Key West by or before January 12, 1912.

It is the intention of Mr. Flagler to operate car ferries between Key West and Havana, by which freight cars can be handled without breaking bulk.

As there are many people who know little of the great countries that lie south of Key West, a few figures may convey some idea of the value and importance of their commerce. There is a population of over five millions of people in the countries south of, and living within 1,500 miles of Key West. The business of these countries aggregate over two billions of dollars every year. Havana, Cuba, lies 90 miles south of Key West. The city of Key West has a population of 20,000, Havana upwards of 297,000. Key West is within 1,260 miles, in direct line of Colon, the eastern entrance to the Panama Canal. The distance from New York to Key West by rail is 1,498 miles, the distance to Havana by Key West is 1,583 miles.

Anyone, with a fairly acute mind, can easily foresee many great changes that the opening of this "Sea-going Railroad" will bring about in development of traffic that will arise under the new conditions. One of our most eminent statesmen wrote Mr. Flagler that he regarded the Key West extension as second only to the Panama Canal in its political and commercial importance to the people of the United States.

The building of this road has emphasized a phase in Mr. Flagler's character previously touched upon: When storms came, hurriances blew, the sea rose, and everything looked bad, Mr. Flagler took occasion to say that there must be something to gain by the experience, however costly, and that we must build better and stronger, so as to withstand such trials. He was not discouraged or dismayed, but just kept pegging away. After the great hurriance of 1909 which did much damage to the city of Key West, the citizens of that city were much discouraged, and in a reply to a telegram sent him, Mr. Flagler wired the mayor of Key West: "Nail your flag to the masthead and inscribe on it 'Nil Desperandum.'"

The construction of the extension has been under the personal supervision of Mr. J. R. Parrott, the president of the Florida East Coast Railway; the engineer in charge of the construction, Mr. J. C. Meredith, who died two years ago on the work, his place was filled by his assistant, Mr. W. J. Krome, of Edwardsville, Ill. Mr. Krome is a young man, a graduate of Cornell University and is pushing this wonderful enterprise with great ability.

A new project that will open up a great field for agricultural development is the new line known as the Kissimmee Valley extension of the Florida East Coast Railway. This line is now under construction. It starts at Maytown, 16 miles west of Titusville, and runs to Lake Okeechobee, crossing the St. Johns River near Cook's Ferry, thence south near Geneva, Chulota, Whitter and Fort Drum. This line will be 125 miles in length; there will be a branch line from this road to Fort Bassinger.

The lands through which this road is being built are well suited to general farming purposes. Corn, cotton, oats, hay, rice, stock, vegetables, fruits, etc., do well on them. The terminal at Lake Okeechobee will be about 40 miles west of Jensen on the Indian River.

The development of Florida within the past twenty years has been a steady, healthy growth. The resources of the State are just beginning to be fairly understood and appreciated.

The drainage work of the Everglades is progressing satisfactorily, so the chief engineer informs the writer, stating in a recent interview that within eighteen months he thought that one of the New River canals would be finished to Lake Okeechobee, also that the Board of Internal Improvement had just arranged with the contractors to build three concrete locks, one in each of the canals under construction, which would benefit the lands greatly, as by them, irrigation, as well as drainage, could be had when necessary.

The following figures may give a faint idea of the development of Florida within the past twenty years: The population has increased from 391,422 in 1890 to 741,139 in 1910, an increase of 89.35 per cent. Of this increase, those counties known as the East Coast counties i. e: along the line of the Florida East Coast Railway, show an increase from 78,213 in 1890 to 165,842 in 1910, an increase of 112 per cent.

The report of the Secretary of Agriculture for 1908, the last issued, gives some figures in the products of Florida that may be of interest to the readers viz:

Bales Sea Island cotton, 32,507; of Upland, 27,646.

4,351,010 bushels of corn.
275,386 bushels of oats.
2,308,689 bushels of sweet potatoes.
412,442 bushels of Irish potatoes.
11,831 bushels of rice.
1,357,283 bushels of peanuts.
47,960 barrels of syrup.
522,539 pounds of tobacco.
303,461 bushels of velvet beans.
1,221 bushels of rye.
4,987,658 crates of fruits. (Note.)—The citrus fruit crops of 1910 was upwards of 5,000,000 crates.
3,218,583 crates of vegetables.

The crops of 1909 and 1910 were much increased over those in the report above quoted.

Number of stock cattle of all kinds on hand July 1, 1908, 1,467,526.
Milch cows, 42,855.
Thoroughbred cattle, 9,687.
Work stock, oxen, mules and horses, 81,537.

The total number of acres under cultivation in 1908 was 1,127,698 of which 42,357 were in garden and vegetable products.

The total value of farm products for the same period was $46,371,130.00, an average of $41.00 per acre.

From a perusal of these items the reader will perceive that Florida has a great variety of resources and its wide area and equable climate permits a considerable choice of location to the intending homeseeker or settler. Newcomers are welcome and will meet with a cordial reception.

EUREKA. A recently established postoffice in Marion county

EUSTIS—Lake county was formed by an act of the legislature of the State of Florida in the year 1887, from portions of Sumter and Orange counties. It contains thirty-one townships, embracing an area of over eleven hundred square miles, its greatest length being sixty miles, an average width of about eighteen miles. About one-sixth of its surface is covered with beautiful clear lakes of fresh water from which the county takes its name. That particular district of Peninsular Florida, so long and so favorably known as the Lake Region, is now principally embraced in Lake county. Nature has here in her best style fitted a magnificent semi-tropical region with ample space for a million people. The altitude of this district, midway between the Atlantic and the Gulf, affords its people constant, pure sea breezes with slight extremes of heat and cold. There is a ridge known as the "Florida Backbone" which begins at the Georgia line, runs through the center of the State of Florida, and ends less than 200 miles south of Jacksonville. All of the land more than 100 feet high on the peninsula is on this ridge. Eustis is on the southern extremity of it, and is the highest important tourist resort in Florida. Eustis is surrounded by hills covered with pine forests and hollows filled with innumberable clear-water lakes. Eustis is located on the east shore of Lake Eustis, and is connected with Lake Harris, on the west shore by Dead River, with Lake Dora on south shore by a canal and Lake Griffin and Silver Springs by the Ocklawaha on the north shore. The lakes in this chain are among the largest in the State. To the lover of rod and reel these lakes and their tributary streams form a fisherman's paradise. The smaller lakes contiguous to Eustis abound in bass, bream, pickerel, perch and other fish. There is plenty of game in the lake regions and highlands of Lake county—quail, squirrel, wild turkey, deer and bear. The Eustis hotels are the Ocklawaha, Grand View, St George and the Sunny Side. The Ocklawaha is one of the most popular tourist hotels in the State. Opens January first and closes April first. Is owned and managed by Mr. John S Lane, of Meriden, Conn. Is situated at the highest point in Eustis, commanding a fine view of Lake Eustis and surrounding orange groves. Golf grounds, boating and automobile facilities for the pleasure of their guests is one of the features of the management. The developing of Eustis from a small country hamlet to the enviable position in which it ranks as the leading tourist city in the interior of the state; the erection of so many handsome winter homes, the miles of cement sidewalks that have been laid, the construction of waterworks, electric, lighting plant, ice manufacturing and other improvements make the city not only desirable as a winter resort, but as an all-year residence, is largely the result of the opening of the Ocklawaha hotel. The facilities for motor boating on Lake Eustis and Harris cannot be surpassed in any other section in the State. There are over one hundred boats on these lakes comprising launches, cruising and racing boats. The latter class are boats making the highest rates of speed in the State.

JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE. Population 75,000. The largest and most important city in Florida, is located on the St Johns river, about 18 miles from the Atlantic ocean, and has direct ocean steamship communication with Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. It has a water front of seven and two-tenths miles, is further west than any other Atlantic port and is nearer than any port north of Charleston to St Louis and the Northwest. Its railroad facilities are equally good, the following lines centering here and affording easy connections with every portion of the country: The A C L, the F E C, the G S & F, the S A L and the Southern

There is probably no city in the United States that offers so many attractions as a place of residence as does Jacksonville. It is located on the banks of the St Johns river, which extends almost the entire length of the State, and which affords ample opportunities to sportsmen, yachtsmen and fishermen to indulge in their favorite pastimes. It is within 40 minutes by rail of the Atlantic ocean and one of the finest seaside resorts in America. Standing upon high ground and well drained by creeks that flow through it and by the great river sweeping round it, the city enjoys advantages of fortunate sanitary topography, and its natural healthiness has been improved by perfect drainage, sewerage and other necessary sanitation. It has a splendid supply of almost chemically pure water, obtained from artesian wells, which are sunk to the depth of about 1,000 feet. The climatic conditions are as near perfect as can be found in America. It is not only a very attractive winter resort, but even the summers are not as uncomfortable as in most northern cities, for it is fanned by delightful breezes from the Atlantic ocean. The population is cosmopolitan—probably as much so as any city of its size in the Union—and strangers who come here to make this their home always find a generous and hearty welcome. The school advantages are excellent, and are being constantly improved. There are churches of all denominations, a public library and the very best amusements are afforded the people of the city. It has gas and electric light plants, water works, an efficient fire department and a fire-alarm telegraph and the largest and most influential Board of Trade in the South, with a membership of over 1,000. Trolley lines run through all parts of the city and into the suburbs and there are a number of fine parks and pleasure resorts. There are miles of paved streets and beautiful shell drives. The mortality reports show that Jacksonville is one of the healthiest cities in this country. The climate is particularly beneficial to all complaints orlginating in or from the severity of a northern latitude; the mean temperature is seventy degrees and it is cooler in summer than either Boston, New York or Chicago. The air is soft, balmy and exceedingly beneficial to all pulmonary complaints. Since the great fire of May, 1901, not only have fine business blocks been erected, but many costly and elegant residences, and in the suburbs, which were not touched by the fire, there are as handsome residences as can be found in any city of its size. It may be imagined that because Jacksonville is in the extreme south that it is an isolated city, but with nine railroads extending to all portions of the country, and elegant Clyde steamships running 5 steamers a week to New York and Boston, the Merchants & Miners Transportation Co runs 3 steamers a week to Baltimore, and not only telegraphic communication with all parts of the world but with long distance telephone, it is in touch with all the great business centers of the country. The United Wireless Telegraph Co also operates a station here and all coastwise passenger steamers are equipped with their apparatus. The financial condition of the city is very satisfactory. The total indebtedness of the city is represented by bonds to the amount of $1,368,000, payable May 15, 1924, with interest paid semi-annually at five per cent per annum. The city has no floating indebtedness. The assessed valuation of the property within the city is: Real estate, $13,-454,760; personal, $3,885,120. The number of buildings erected since the fire of May 3, 1901, are over 10,000, the value of which exceeds $30,000,000. The continued activity in real estate, and especially the demand for desirable factory and residence sites, shows conclusively that the work has just begun. The financial progress of the city since 1901, as represented by the clearing house reports for these years, is as follows: 1901, $16,757,772.66; 1902, $18.927,504.39; 1903, $26,112,-716.59; 1904, $42,205,462.99; 1905, $59,-962,427.38; 1906, $66,684,098.00; 1907, $76,046,049.49; 1908, $73,194,127.54; 1909, $92.232,927.66; 1910, $124,657,-041.69. The shipping interests constitute a large percentage of Jacksonville's progressiveness. The value of foreign imports for 1910, was $707,881.-17, and of the exports, $2,669.093.00. The imports consisted principally of flour, sugar, bacon, coal oil, shoes, fertilizers, steel rails, grain, etc. The exports were lumber, cross ties, shingles, naval stores, fruits, vegetables, kaolin clay, cotton, etc. The city has ten banks with a combined capital and surplus of $3,250,000.000, and very much of the growth and progress of Jacksonville has been due to these institutions, which have an established reputation for strength and stability. They have been the agencies that have gathered and stored the funds of its citizens to be loaned out to carry along and develop the city's manufacturing and business interests and to provide its thrifty people with homes. The press is represented by the Florida Times-Union and the Metropolis issued daily, the Coat of Arms, Florida Produce News, Florida Staats Zeitung and The Floridian issued weekly, Florida Financial and Industrial Record and the Florida Fraternal Record, isued monthly. The permanent prosperity of Jacksonville and its growing importance and wealth is assured by the constantly increasing development, prosperity and importance of a state that has resources for wealth far in advance of almost any other section in the country and has but just begun, so to speak, to properly develop them. The city has over 200 factories, great and small, has ten great saw and planing mills, a floating dock of 4,200 tons capacity, 2 large ship yards and wholesale and retail houses in every line of merchandise. Aside from these, others are coming and every branch of business and every industry is on a steady and reliable increase. Probably no city in the South has a more brilliant future before it or a more stable foundation for its prosperity than Jacksonville, for extensive travel through the entire state shows the enormous room for increased development and the present rapid improvement that is going on everywhere, while every dollars worth of business sent out of the State or brought into it is bound to make its impression on Jacksonville business. Enormous hotels and several of them are required to accommodate the many thousands who each winter visit this great resort of the State, and boarding houses, apartment houses, all small hotels and even private families receive their full share of the guests who yearly make this city one of the most noted transient residence resorts in the world. PALM BEACH. Population 300. One of the best known winter resorts in the State is located on Lake Worth, a lagoon some 22 miles in length and averaging about a mile in width, and on the Atlantic Ocean, 300 miles below Jacksonville, 65 above Miami, and across the lake from West Palm Beach its railroad station, county seat and banking point. Palm Beach has four hotels, one which "The Royal Poinciana" is the largest in the world. Here is another fine hotel, the Breakers, and beautifully located amid orange and cocoanut groves is the large new hotel "Palm Beach." These hotels face on the ocean and on Lake Worth, the latter being a beautiful body of water eighteen miles long by a maximum width of one mile. The Gulf Stream touches the shore here and insures the bathing and climate for which the resort is so much noted. This is a fine fishing ground the catches of kingfish made are something wonderful and many other species are abundant. Visitors to Palm Beach usually take a trip to Munyon's Island, which is practically 18 miles of garden, citrus groves and palm plantations, maintained in a state of perfection. Edwin M Brelsford postmaster.

on the hard shell roads more enjoyable. St. Augustine was settled in 1565 by Don Pedro Menendez de Aviles. It was then a well fortified post, a suitable defense both against Indians and buccaneers. Of the system of fortifications little now is left, but the pillars of the old gateway are still standing, the seawall remains, a few of the quaint streets have not yet been improved, and the fort is always on object of interest Fort Marion has been built and rebuilt, always keeping the original foundations. It stands at the north end of the sea wall, where the Spaniards built it in the days of Spain's supremacy; it was then called Fort San Marcos. St. Augustine has all the appointments and facilities of a modern, up-to-date city, being supplied with electric lights, water works, fire department, opera house, churches of the leading denominations, a fine public school system, local and long distance telephone facilities, public library, hospitals, handsome and commodious general and special stores, 3 banks, a newspaper, The Record, published daily and weekly, etc. Tel, W U. CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL. GOVERNMENT BUILDING.

TAMPA. Population 37,782; including West Tampa, practically a portion of the city, 52,176. The judicial seat of Hillsboro county and the metropolis of the ten or twelve counties generally known as South Florida, is located at the head of Hillsboro Bay, midway on the Gulf coast of the Peninsula of Florida and on the A. C. L. and S. A. L. Tampa Northern, Tampa and Gulf Coast and Charlotte Harbor & Northern Rys., 1213 miles from New York, 1029 from Baltimore, 886 from Richmond, 756 from New Orleans, 516 from Atlanta and 212 from Jacksonville. It is surrounded by a country which is very rich in resources. The lands adjacent are now among the most productive and valuable in the country, in view of the intelligent cultivation, which of late years has been introduced by incoming settlers and aided of course by the magnificent climate and general warmth, which practically may be said to prevail throughout the entire year. The city is famed as the center of the cities fruit culture and winter gardening. The climate of Tampa leaves but little to be desired. The equability of temperature and the freedom from excessive heat and cold shows the adaptability of the locality for the successful carrying on of all branches of industry. The winter is marked by abundant sunshine and warmth, the summer by rainfall and coolness. The average mean temperature for January, the coldest month of the year, is about 59 degrees. The warmest months, July and August show an average temperature of 81 degrees. The highest temperature on record is 95 degrees, and an average warm day in summer at noon would show a thermometer mark of about 85 to 88. The average rainfall during the past dozen years has been about 50-21 inches, more than three-fourths of this falls during the summer months, which are generally designated as the rainy season. The city and locality are particularly free from tornadoes, blizzards, water spouts, earthquakes and other disasters which so often devestate other sections. Also in the hottest season of the year at eventide of each day, comes land and Gulf breezes, which induce sleep and invigorate humanity. Tampa altogether is one of the healthiest and most delightful residental cities in the South. The sandy soil induces natural drainage, and in addition, the city authorities are improving the sanitary arrangements of the city as fast as is possible. The city is well administered and governed. All duties of the municipal officials are thoroughly carried out and the funds all judiciously utilized for the public weal. The citys bonded indebtness is about $650,000. Tampa is also efficiently policed and has one department in the country. Churches department in the country.

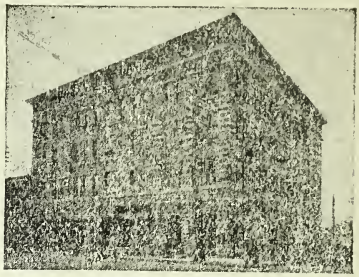
Churches and Schools.

The various religious denominations represented are as follows: 1 Adventist; 2 Baptist; 1 Congregational; 1 Episcopal; 2 Jewish; 1 Lutheran; 4 Methodist; 2 Presbyterian and 3 Roman Catholic. The negroes have also a large number of churches. There are in operation a high school, four grammer schools and four primary schools. The above are the public schools for white pupils. For the colored race there is what is known as the Harlem Academy and a number of primary and graded schools. Irrespective of public schools there are 3 private preparatory schools imparting tuition from the primary up to the Academic grade. The Catholic also maintain a college for boys and young men, and a convent school for young ladies, and in addition they have also several mission schools among the negroes. There is also a business college. The banks of this city while at the same time exercising very properly a reasonable conservatism, have never been lacking in enlightened enterprise, or that safe and careful kind of public spirit that always stands ready to extend proper assistance to public and private movements based upon correct principles for the development of resources, the upbuilding of legitimate business ventures and the establishment of manufactures and commerce.

Financial Institutions



AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK.

There are 7 banks, as follows: The American National, the Bank of West Tampa at West Tampa, the Bank of Ybor City, the Citizens' Bank & Trust Co., the Bank of Commerce, the Exchange National Bank and the First National Bank.

Manufacturing

For a period of about 20 years the name of Tampa has been identified with the manufacture of the finest clear Havana cigars, and is today the leading clear Havana cigar manufacturing center in the United States if not of the world. This industry is undoubtedly the corner stone upon which the prosperity of Tampa is based. Subsequently, of course, other pursuits have been established and succeeded. But cigar manufacturing is the prime factor in the development of this city, and, not withstand ing the great advances that have been made, the present is but a commencement of the wider future yet before this industry in Tampa and vicinity. Over 300,000,000 cigars are made and sold annually while, the average value of the wages paid out each week through the operation of the cigar factories is over $250,000. That there exists today highly favorable conditions for the establishment of certain lines of manufacture in Tampa is beyond question. The city is the intersecting point of two great trunk lines of railroad, with three other roads opening up dependent contiguous country, and with direct ocean navigation to all parts of the United States, raw material can be obtained here and the finished products can be shipped away with facility. This city is thus closely connected with the markets of the United States and especially those of the southern tier of states and also with foreign countries and furthermore, it is contiguous to the great timber and lumber producing sections of the state, and is a very important city of distribution for garden produce and certain fruits, of course including all citrus varieties. Thus opportunities are here offered in certain lines which are of a more advantageous nature than are offered in the larger cities further north, where everything is prone to be overdone. The cost of manufacturing and the maintenance of plants is lower here than in the above sections. For the supply of local needs there are many branches of manufacture which could be carried on to advantage here. A furniture factory would pay and the hard woods required for this industry are grown in the state. The same might be said of all manufacturers of wooden ware such, as buckets, tubs, rolling pins, etc. Nearly all kinds of small manufacturers catering to local needs would find a congenial and profitable field of production in this city. Another branch of industry that would be certain to succeed if managed properly, is the canning of fresh fruits and vegetables, all of which are Florida products, and which could be put up here in perfection, the quality of these articles of foods obtained here being second to none in the country. The above, are of course, but examples, and do not in the remotest degree represent what might be accomplished in the way of productive enterprise. Of course the means which Tampa's citizens have accumulated are naturally required for their present industries, but new comers with capital will find local business men and capitalists ready and willing to join hands with skillful and experienced managers. This city and its inhabitants are prepared to welcome anyone who may decide to make Tampa, the seat of their operations and will extend to them every assistance in their power. The press is represented by the Florida Grower, Florida Flower, Florida Beacon, Times and Tribune published daily and weekly, and the Florida Beacon published weekly, also one Spanish and one Italian daily. The wholesale trade of Tampa has the best of facilities for doing business, the city being the metropolis and market of South Florida and the center of a thriving and growing section of the country. The development in recent years has been such that Tampa today is one of the most important jobbing centers of the Gulf States. This result has been achieved partly by reasons of good shipping facilities to all points of the dependent territory, but much must be attributed to the energy, enterprise and modern methods of doing business characteristic of Tampa's wholesale men. In groceries, provisions agricultural staples, dry goods,

The Harbor.

That Tampa is destined to become the greatest port of the Gulf Coast is shown in figures year by year. This port shows greater gains than older rivals and in time will overlap them in the volumne of business.

During the year East Tampa was annexed to Tampa and by this move the city acquired property on both sides of the proposed harbor (for which Congress has appropriated $1,750,000) and when completed will give Tampa seven and one-half miles of municipal controlled docks, which is not equalled in the world.

For the year 1910 the merchandise which passed through the port of Tampa (Hillsboro Bay and River) netted 1,098,071 tons, with an approximated valuation of $23,463,510, an increase over 1909 of 33.7 per cent in tonnage and 26 per cent in valuation.

Other port figures, furnished by Mr. George Blardone, marine reporter of the Tampa Times, follow:

Tampa Newspapers.

The Tampa newspapers have kept pace with the progress of the city during the year and the two dailies, the Tribune and the Times, have been notably vigilant in defending the interests of the community against the evils which have attacked it. Throughout the strike trouble, these papers have been outspoken in behalf of the preservation of the cigar industry and have not hesitated to use plain language in asserting the rights of the citizens to organize for the preservation of peace and order. Editorials in both papers have had a remarkably good effect in upholding the hands of the business interests throughout the troubles and have had most appreciable effect upon the situation. The Tribune has scored some notable achievements during the year, printing, in close succession, a large Fashion Edition, a Christmas Number and a Development Year-Book, the latter intended for general circulation throughout the country in the interest of the upbuilding of South Florida. The Times surpassed all Florida records for newspaper size by printing a Christmas Number of 120 pages, which proved a valuable advertisement for the city. Florida Opportunities has continued throughout the year in its good work of exploiting the advantages of this section, while the organ of the Florida Citrus Exchange, the Fruit and Produce News, has made notable improvements, Edgar A Wright, of Los Angeles, having come to the city to take charge of the publication. Two new publications are promised the city, the Florida Flower, a literary and society magazine, and the Florida Beacon, a weekly paper.

Stands Seventh as Port of Entry.

According to the annual report of Daniel J O'Keefe, United States commissioner-general of immigration, for the year of 1910, Tampa stands seventh in the list of American cities from the standpoint of immigration. Tampa surpasses New Orleans and Galveston in this respect, or any other Gulf port. The list is as follows: New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Portland, Me., San Francisco, Tampa.

During the year of 1910, 5,386 immigrants were landed at Tampa against 3,943 in 1909, an increase of 1,443.

During the year eighty-eight would-be immigrants were debarred from landing here, while seven were found

WEST PALM BEACH. Three hundred miles south of Jacksonville, with an all-the-year-round population of at least three thousand and rapidly growing, is the commercial part of the far famous winter resort Palm Beach, the two places being separated by Lake Worth. In the winter time its population, on account of the many cottagers who come in from the north and the tourists who visit the hotels, practically doubles itself, and not less than one hundred and fifty thousand people visit the town each season.

Is the county seat of Palm Beach county, and is the nearest city on the railroad to Lake Okeechobee and the Everglades farming lands that are being drained by the State. It is also in the heart of the pineapple section of Florida, and Lake Worth upon the shores of which it is located, is filled with marketable fish and oysters. Palm Beach county took the gold medal for citrous fruit at the St Louis Worlds Fair.

There is a cigar factory in the town that is constantly increasing in importance. The public school of West Palm Beach erected and furnished at a cost of nearly one hundred thousand dollars has the distinction of being the leading public school in the State.

There are many large mercantile establishments, three newspapers, two banks, five garages, three livery stables, two artificial stone plants, five first-class hotels as well as many boarding houses. The fishing industry is taken care of by three large companies, while there are several boat-building concerns on the Lake, and a number of machine shops where boats and automobiles may be easily repaired.

There are ten real estate firms, all of whom can be recommended as reliable and who are doing yeoman service in getting the town and county settled up. The farm lands between West Palm Beach and Lake Okeechobee are second to none on the continent, so that the future of West Palm Beach cannot help but be prosperous. Two railroads, one going in a northwesterly direction, and one southwesterly, are proposing to make West Palm Beach their terminus, and it is only a short time until the deepening of the harbor at Sewells' Point, twenty odd miles away, will make competitive water transportation from West Palm Beach a possibility. The town is located on the canal that runs from Jacksonville to Miami, and on the Florida East Coast railway that runs to Key West, and among its growing suburbs is the great winter resorts: Palm Beach and Royal Park, Miramar, Jefferson Park, Bethesda Park, Pleasant City, Palm Beach Heights and Mangonia.

The connection between Palm Beach and West Palm Beach is made by bridge and ferry, and a new bridge across the Lake one mile south of the present bridge is being constructed that will connect Phillips' Point at West Palm Beach directly with Royal Park, both rapidly growing divisions of the community. WEST PALM BEACH - - - - - - - - FLORIDA

Locating and Estimating Timber, both Pine and Cypress; Selecting and Grading Orange and Vegetable Lands a Specialty.

Mr. Sheen's profession has carried him over all parts of the Southern Peninsula of Florida, and by personal observation he has found great opportunities for profitable investments in Timber, Orange and Vegetable Lands, especially in the wild unsettled parts where the land is mostly owned by large corporations, who have never had the land graded according to quality, but all priced the same.

Write for particulars.

Own a Home in Winter Park

As the local representative of the owner of a large amount of Winter Park Real Estate, I am in position to offer at the lowest prices and on the most favorable terms, building sites suitable for every purpose. Some are near the business center of the town, and suitable for business blocks; others have lake frontage and are suitable for homes of the highest class. There are also many interior lots, suitable for more modest dwellings. Several of the latter have just been improved with cottages specially built for this climate, fitted with all modern conveniences, including modern plumbing and water supply, electric light, etc., which I am offering for sale, or for rent furnished. I also offer several small orange grove properties which are in condition to give large returns for amount invested.

Public Accountants and Auditors

Jacksonville, Florida

We examine, audit, open, close, write up and design books, and install simple and accurate systems for Public Officials, Municipalities, Corporations, Partnerships, Executors, Administrators, Trustees' Bank, Cigar Factories, Saw Mills, Naval Stores, Capitalists and Promoters Accounts.

Companies Incorporated, Organized, Consolidated and all Legal and Initial Proceedings Conducted

Correspondence with Banks and Bankers who desire more thorough audits than it is customary for National or State Bank Examiners to make is invited.

A periodical audit shows whether the books are being kept up and the work is being accurately, systematically and faithfully executed. It will prevent costly errors and defalcation, and tell where you stand financially, and how profitable your transactions are. It will save trouble, expense and credit. In fact it has all the arguments of system, good business, safety and prudence behind it.
